MAN KILLS HIS WIFE

A Dreadful Tragedy at Kalihi Camp Sunday.

Lying unattended for about twelve hours in a small cottage at the Kalihi Camp after having been beaten in a terrible manner by her husband, Mrs. Kaili Wainee died about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. When arrested by the police yesterday the husband gave a mock semblance of affection for the dead woman by weeping and insisting on kissing her swollen and torn lips. Pending a complete investigation of the case the alleged murderer is held at the police station.

About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon information reached the police station that a woman lay dead in the cottage at the Kalihi Camp occupied by George Wainee and his wife. Assistant Sheriff Henry Vida and other officers proceeded to the camp and found a woman, apparently about thirty years of age, lying in one of the rooms surrounded by half a dozen weeping and wailing Hawaiian women.

The face of the dead woman was ghastly, for it bore marks of violence. One eye was badly swollen, the lips bruised and swollen, the face skinned, and from the mouth blood had trickled. Eyewitnesses told of a struggle between the two at midnight on Saturday, a repetition of similar fights which neighbors say have occurred with almost weekly regularity. One witness stated to the police that George Wainee was seen beating his wife late Saturday night. The pair struggled on the veranda of their little cottage for a while, during which time the eyewitness ran forward to separate the couple, but before she reached them George dragged the woman to the edge of the veranda and threw her off, letting her fall to the ground about three feet below. The cottage is built upon a coral stratum, white and sharp-pointed. The eyewitness says that Kaili struck upon her head. She arose and returned to the house, and all was quiet for a while. Then the quarrel was renewed, and again the conflict ceased. After that the neighbors made no further interference.

About noon yesterday George Wainee left the cottage and went in search of a doctor. He tried to find Dr. Li, the Chinese physician, but evidently failed, and as far as is known the dying woman received no medical attention whatever. The police are of the opinion that the woman lay dead in the house from about 1 o'clock to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Wainee has maintained a stoical silence concerning his part in the affair. The police already have the statements of the eyewitnesses as to just what they saw. Assistant Sheriff Vida swore in the following coroner's jury: Joe Kaneane, J. K. Maunaloa, J. Holoua, D. Kala, Sam Paulo, Keliia. The jury viewed the remains at the Kalihi house and will again meet on Tuesday evening at the police station to consider the case.

George Wainee is about 24 years of age and is a pooler, or stevedore. He is said to have been brutal in conduct toward the woman who bore his name. He was quite sober when brought to the police station yesterday. It is reported at the police station that Kaili Wainee once came to the police station with a bruised face and announced that George had beaten her.

WHEN JUDGE DOLE RETURNED FROM SCHOOL

An old copy of the Friend of December, 1898, has turned up with the following paragraph about U. S. Judge, formerly President, Sanford B. Dole: "By the Montanas, we are glad to welcome this young gentleman, who has visited the United States to complete his education. He is a graduate of Williams College and has been admitted to the bar in Boston. He returns, we understand, to practice law upon the islands. His accurate knowledge of the Hawaiian language will prove of great assistance to him in his profession."

SOCIETY CIRCUS NEXT HONOLULU ATTRACTION

Several fashionable people in town are planning a society circus and corps of ballet and the announcement of the same will be made in a few days. There will be a sawdust ring, clowns, monstrosities, acrobats, bareback riders, side-show, band, etc., and the whole show given under canvas.

SHERIDAN IN AND OUT

Transport Arrives From Manila and Leaves for Coast.

The United States Army transport Sheridan arrived from Manila early yesterday morning and at 1 p. m. proceeded to San Francisco. Several passengers were taken on here, including Lieut. Schuman, 10th Infantry, and wife, and Dr. L. B. Baker, 10th Infantry, and family, on leave; Lieut. Weightman, U. S. R. C. Manning, who goes to the Coast for orders; Miss Laura Thompson, sister of the wife of Lieut. Randolph, 10th Infantry, who has been a visitor at Camp McKinley for the past two months, and is now returning to San Francisco to join her father, Col. Heizman, Medical Corps, U. S. A.; J. Castle Ridgway of Hilo, National Bank Examiner, who goes to Washington on business; Mrs. T. F. Drake, wife of the weather bureau assistant; Lieut. Slattery, Engineer Corps, U. S. A., who goes to San Francisco for examination for promotion to the rank of captain; Mrs. W. B. Maling and children, family of United States Commissioner Maling; and E. I. Towt of the postoffice.

The Sheridan landed one passenger here, Captain C. B. Hepburn, Signal Corps, U. S. A.

The voyage of the transport was uneventful. The first-cabin passenger list was large, but in the steerage there were only casuals and government employees. The crews of the transports Meade, Kilpatrick and McClellan, the three transports which were rushed to the Philippines with troops when it was feared trouble would come in China, are being taken back to the mainland.

Captain Morrow, the army quartermaster of the Sheridan, one of the most popular and efficient officers in the quartermaster service, had a hard row to hoe this trip. In spite of the fact that he had so many transport employees aboard, none of them felt that he was entitled to do any work aboard, as they were still under pay. They refused even to clean up their quarters. Captain Morrow had but six men for a guard, entailing almost continuous duty upon the sextette for the entire journey. The transports generally have at least a company of men for duty of this character.

The transport carried considerable mail from here, the collections from Friday night until noon yesterday. The through passenger list from Manila and Nagasaki was as follows:

Louis Bartlet, M. C. Browne, Miss A. H. Bartholomew, Leroy E. Burdge, Chas. E. Behm, Geo. S. Barwood, Mrs. Barwood and two children; Capt. H. C. Bissett, U. S. M. C.; Henry C. Bock, Mrs. H. C. Bock, Lieut. A. E. Boyce, Mrs. A. E. Boyce; Capt. A. W. Chase, paymaster, U. S. A.; J. E. Collins, Max Cazin, J. W. Curten, Alfred Christensen, Mrs. Christensen and two children; Lieut. R. S. Douglas, U. S. Navy; Mrs. Douglas, John C. Desmond, W. F. Daughton, Miss E. F. Edwards, F. M. Erichsen, A. W. Ely, E. C. Fleming, Thomas Flanagan, Mrs. C. W. Foster, F. Fochrenbach, Mrs. Fochrenbach and infant, J. N. Griffiths, S. D. Huntington, Mrs. P. H. Hardy; Lieut. Jack Hayes, 16 Inf.; Mrs. Hayes and infant, John A. Henshall, Thomas Hennessey, L. W. ## A MOUNTAIN DISAPPEARS TRAIN BOYS AS SAILORS

Terrible Convulsion of Nature in Abra Province. A Suggestion by Frank Cooke for Reform School.

Though there is no sign of the promised earthquake for the Philippines a close neighbor is reported in the form of a large land subsidence. According to the reports received from up north a whole mountain has disappeared and where it once was there is now a lake about five acres in extent.

So violent was the subsidence that the shock was felt for miles around and many of the inhabitants in the neighborhood thought the visitor was an earthquake.

Lieutenant Fernandez, who reports the occurrence, reached Vigan, Ilocos Sur, about May 8. He says that while riding a short distance from Arup, about twenty miles east of Vigan, and a few miles southeast of Bangued, the capital of Abra, a terrible noise was heard, as if the globe were being torn asunder.

This was followed by a great commotion in the earth similar to that experienced by an earthquake but more violent. After riding for a considerable time the center of the disturbance was reached near the barrio of Arup, where it was found that a large mountain, known as Monte de Tula, had settled down out of sight and in its place was a lake of considerable size. He and those who accompanied him did not care to venture too close to the area of disturbance.

Lieutenant Fernandez says he had not time to ascertain if any lives were lost in the subsidence, but as there were natives living on the mountain side there is reason to fear the worst. The natives in the vicinity are in a state of terror. Manila Times, May 16.

"I don't see why we can't utilize the Reform School boys as sailors," said A. F. Cooke last evening. "They never do much with what they learn of farming and in the trades they can't compete any more than the white men can, with the Asiatics. I remember very well when a lot of boys from the Reform School went to sea on the Kaimiloa and the experience was as good for them as it was for the country. The Hawaiian is a born sailor; he is not friendly to agriculture and even lets the Chinese raise his taro for him. 'I haven't worked out any scheme but merely make a suggestion. Would it be practicable to have a reform school afloat—for the Territory to own a freighter, a sailing vessel, and put the boys aboard after the manner of those who serve apprenticeships on training vessels? Perhaps that wouldn't do, but it would be easy. I should think to ship the lads on any vessels that happen along, with the understanding that, if they come ashore here before their sentences expire, they will find themselves in trouble. The chances are that they would make able seamen and earn their living. The Territory would be rid of them and they would become self-supporting. Why not?"

The American barkentine Lahaina was reported off Koko Head last evening at 6:30. The Lahaina, Captain Carlsen, forty-eight days out from Nitrate Ports, has a cargo of fertilizer for the Hawaiian Fertilizer Co., Ltd.

KAMEHAMEHA DAY.

By H. M. Ayres.

On some bare hillside where the mynahs scream,
And the gray cactus faithful vigil keeps,
His empire passed, his power but a dream,
Hid from all eyes, Kamehameha sleeps.
Alive, he sought his people's lasting good,
Looking ahead o'er all the years to be—
Had they but marked his words and understood,
Might have been stemmed the flood of destiny.
His realm remains the same, but 'neath the palms
The haole pass and sing the songs he sung,
And barter in the marts, while alien arms
Have to the breeze a stranger banner flung.

Today, as loyal as in olden days,
His remnant people keep his memory green,
And at his statue each one homage pays,
And loving reverence to his kindred queen.
For one short day hoist up Hawaii's flag,
For old time's sake the ancient mele sing,
Let hearts be glad and regret's footsteps lag,
In honor of Hawaii's kingliest king.

Agrarian Trouble in Russia Is Spreading--New Zealand's Leading Man Dead.

(Associated Press Cablegrams.)

SAN DIEGO, June 11.—Seventeen yachts will accompany the competitors in the Hawaiian cup yacht race for thirty miles to sea on the start today.

The yachts about starting in the race to Honolulu are Commodore Sinclair's Lurline, a former visitor to the islands, representing the South Coast Yacht Club; Chas. L. Tutt's Anemone, which sailed round the Horn for this contest, representing the New York Yacht Club, and Clarence W. Macfarlane's La Paloma, representing the Hawaii Yacht Club. It is the first transpacific yacht race ever to be held, and, to Hawaii's glory, its inception was here and its trophies are provided by the generosity of Honolulu's business community.

SHRINERS HAVE A PLANTER'S COTTAGE

The Washington Star describes the Hawaiian booth at the Masonic May festival in that city as follows:

Another scene of activity and bustle was presented at the Hawaiian planter's cottage, with the picturesque plantation as a background. This is in charge of the members of Esther Chapter, No. 5, Order of the Eastern Star, and one of its most attractive features is the doll show. In it are miniature copies of members of the ures. There is a general variety of dolls of all sizes and degrees, and in addition the ladies of Esther Chapter serve their patrons sherbert and other frozeng delicacies. This chapter is noted for its hustling qualities, and the cash returns from the Hawaiian booth indicate that the board of control made no mistake when it decided in the assignment to Esther Chapter. During the past six weeks this organization of ladies had given a week's luncheon, several euchre parties and at the time the May festival began it was in the midst of a two weeks' rummage sale in preparation for the great event now in progress. Arab patrol, and of Almas Temple, also was Knights Templar and other fig-
